

Key Finder (Transmitter and Receiver Kit) with Beep Alarm and Light - the new, high tech solution to find your keys with just the push of a button.

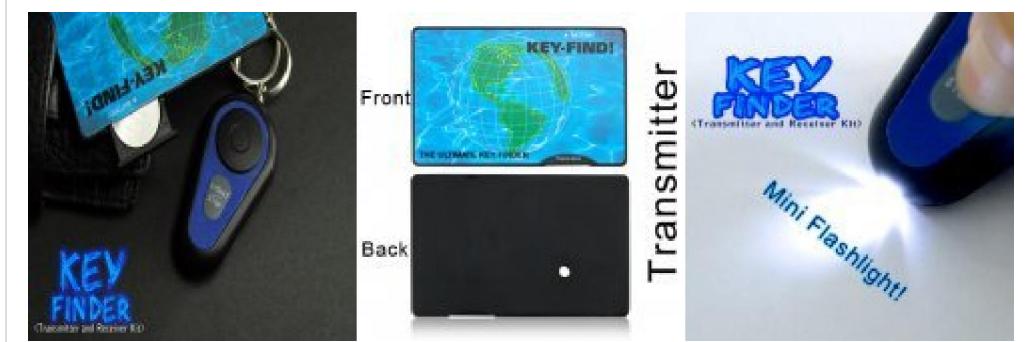

This key finder uses the latest electronic wave search technology to locate your keys and will work up to 25 meters no matter where they are. Inferior technology utilizes clapping or whistling, but with this key finder, it's just a matter of pressing the "find" button on the credit card sized remote. The loud beeping alarm from the key finder receiver will then alert the user of its location, even when hidden under a pile of clothes or stored inside your closet.

This key finder can make finding anything so much easier, not just keys. Just attach the receiver part to your wallet, purse, iPod, iPhone, or anything portable, big or small, and it can be easily found with the press of a button. Cats and dogs just love to hide things and even children like to play pranks. Save yourself time and frustration when you find items missing by simply using this key finder.

If you're looking for a solid resale item that can make you some great profit before everyone else, then this key finder is that product. Place your orders today while supplies last and we will express ship it to you by tomorrow. This key finder comes with our famous 12 month guarantee .
